About Elks Aidmore, Inc.

Elks Aidmore has provided services to Georgia's at-risk youth, like foster children, for more than 75 years through a wide range of residential treatment and support programs. Starting in the 1930's, Elks Aidmore provided services to children who suffered from physical disabilities, this work precipitated the creation of the Elks Aidmore Hospital, which served the same population until 1976 when the hospital was closed. In 1977, Elks Aidmore adjusted its mission so that it could provide direct care to children that are in foster care.

Elks Aidmore delivers its mission through a wide range of programs that focus on creating success for at-risk teenagers and young adults who are in foster care.
